

TODAY'S GOLD PRODUCTION SHOULD BECOME OBJECTIVE FOR MINE INDUSTRY

Hon. T. A. Crear, Minister of Mines, Addresses Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

OTTAWA, March 18.—An aim of the gold production in the next five years should be the objective of the mining industry in Canada, Hon. T. A. Crear, minister of mines, told the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy here Tuesday.

"Let Canada show the world the mining industry has means, its tenacity and its on the march to greater achievements than ever before," he urged.

Speaking at a luncheon of the institute, he said he believed there was throughout Canada, "a growing consciousness of the importance of the mining industry. We have passed through a period of depression, yet during the last five years mining is the only industry that has advanced."

GREAT CONFIDENCE
Mr. Crear thought Canada as far as mining was concerned could look forward to the future with great confidence. "I am much to say that today this country, because of her mining resources, possesses a greater opportunity and more reason for confidence in the future than any other country in the world," he said.

We know from information available that Canada possesses the greatest mining areas in the world. Our tasks in the future are to develop the great and the sympathetic support of the public and the government to bring that industry to a greater state."

RUSIA IN LEAD
Russia had been doing more to increase mining development than any other country in the world, he said. One of the aims of the Soviet was to have a larger gold production than any other country in 1937 and by 1940 to have a greater production than the rest of the world combined.

Canada, he said, was in a particularly fortunate position with regard to metals and should be able to supply them in larger and ever-increasing quantities to countries lacking them, thereby helping to restore the balance of trade.

HONESTY AND INTEGRITY
He urged the Institute to do all in its power to place the mining industry on foundations of honesty and integrity because the individual who risks his money should have a fair run for his money.

Dealing with the prospect, he said the guiding principle of the late Noyah Timmins had been a fair deal to the prospector. "The prospector plays a large and important part in the mining industry and should be given a fair deal."

TO VISIT EVERY MINE
Stating he intended eventually to visit every producing mine in Canada, the minister emphasized that he would welcome suggestions from any source as to how the industry could be put on a better and more profitable basis.

Mayor Stanley Lewis also addressed the delegates and Captain G. G. Ross, president of the Institute, thanked the mayor for his welcome.

Hon. J. S. McDonald, minister of mines and natural resources for Manitoba, stated that the progress had been made in the mining industry in Manitoba.

T. C. Dennis, Montreal, representing the Quebec department of mines and Col. C. C. Williams, Canadian Collieries in British Columbia, also spoke.

German Deserts Rhineland Army
MULHOUSE, France, March 18.—The first deserter from Germany's new Rhineland army found a haven in France last night after swimming across the Rhine. Exhilarated by the pursuit of German sentries, who had been told that the deserter was a Reich soldier, the deserter jumped the bank in France near the Hunsrück railway bridge.

French sentries who arrested him said he was asked to be allowed to remain in France.

THOMPSON IS ACQUITTED ON ARMS CHARGE

Was Alleged to Have Possessed Revolver Found On Gunman

Prison gates swung open briefly Tuesday for Douglas Chalmers, convicted gunman and thief, so that he might be able to exonerate Victor Thompson, who was charged with possession of a revolver without a permit.

Thinking as he gazed about him, Chalmers was escorted into criminal court by two Royal Canadian Mounted policemen Tuesday afternoon, manacled to Ernest Samuel Ross, with whom he will serve time in the "big house" and feel the savage end of the lash for armed robbery of residents of a west end home.

QUITE UNMOVED
He appeared quite unmoved despite the fact that only a few minutes earlier he had learned that the appeal court had added five years to his sentence of five years and 12 lashes.

A six-man jury subsequently acquitted Thompson, who was alleged to have possessed the revolver when he was found on Chalmers when the two gunmen were taken into custody last November. The same gun that was flourished in the faces of Chief of Detectives Robert Suber and Detective Murdoch Munro in the course of a spectacle.

Mr. Justice Twiddle approved the appeal, adding that the story of Victor Fuller, chief crown witness, who testified that he turned over the gun to Thompson ten days before it was recovered, was not credible.

Defence witnesses swore that Thompson could have been in contact with Fuller at the time which the crown witness said the deal was consummated.

HANDCUFFS TAKEN OFF
The handcuffs were taken from Chalmers' wrists and he occupied the witness box to be questioned by Neil D. Maclean, K.C., counsel for Thompson. The irony of the situation apparently struck the gunman for he smiled wryly as he took his unusual position.

"Did the accused give you the gun?" he was asked.

"No," Chalmers replied.

"Who did?" counsel asked.

"The man I got the gun from was a total stranger. He said that he had brought me $10 for it."

Chalmers and Ross had been brought to the court house from Fort Saskatchewan in case the appeal court judges expressed the desire to interview them personally in connection with the attorney-general's application for stiffer sentences.

Man Found Dead
ARLICK, Sask., March 18.—Following a reported quarrel with his wife, 40-year-old John Moslak of the Eagle Creek district, west of Areluk, was found dead, a small calibre rifle by his side, Tuesday evening. He leaves his widow and three children aged 15, 8 and 6.

ed spending power of wage-earners employed through the undertaking.

REDUCTION OF RENT
The construction industry lends itself most effectively to the alleviation of unemployment and consequently to a reduction of those rental charges being borne by federal, provincial and municipal taxpayers.

Statistics show that 80 per cent. of the cost of a building is paid out for labor, and all lines of business in any community would benefit by building activity.

"The morale of our citizens would be greatly improved and some hope established for the young men who are ready to learn the various trades by which they hope to support themselves in the future."

"So far the act has been upon the Statutes for over six months, and up to date only a fractional part of the $10,000,000 Government Fund has been paid out."

"Certain lending companies are reluctant to accept the low rate of interest stipulated. In the Western provinces, no loans seem to be available, and reasons given are that certain provincial laws make it difficult to loan money with any degree of certainty, that the loan will be repaid at contracted for."

"Whilst past provincial governments no doubt acted in good faith, when the various acts were passed the results have proven that this legislation has nullified its usefulness, and is having a very detrimental effect at this time. This is the time when the individual and industry must furnish the driving power."

It is useless to expect the Dominion government to provide the initiative, the energy, and the opportunity, in the complicated future of our civilization.

It is therefore the duty of our citizens who look to the building industry for a means of livelihood, to take an interest in this matter.

TO THEIR ADVANTAGE
"It is to the advantage of those who need a home, to make their wants known, so that our Provincial government will take such steps to remove or repeal any laws that are preventing the normal and very desirable flow of funds coming into our Province for building purposes."

And finally, our Municipal Council and Provincial government should see the benefits that they would experience by doing something that would remove the crushing burden of relief charges, they are now called upon to bear.

This is the first of a series of broadsheets that are being sponsored by the Dominion Chamber of Commerce, in order to try and influence public opinion. Mr. Brown stated in conclusion.

APPEAL COURT ADDS 5 YEARS TO SENTENCE

Douglas Chalmers to Serve Double Time for Armed Robbery

The appellate division, supreme court of Alberta, sitting here Tuesday, added five years to the sentence of five years and 12 lashes which Judge Crawford had imposed upon Douglas Chalmers, to whom lengthy "record" another sordid chapter was added last week when he pleaded guilty to robbing Dr. John Fife, Mrs. Florence Cooper and Miss Grace Johnson in a west end home.

Ernest Samuel Ross, youthful penitentiary "old boy" and Chalmers accomplice in a brief robbery, ory of crime here, will still serve the originally-imposed five years and 12 lashes as the result of the appeal court deliberations. They dealt more leniently with him holding that Chalmers was "the more dominant character."

TOO LENIENT
The appeal was launched by the attorney-general's department on the grounds that Judge Crawford had been "too lenient" in punishing the criminals, George B. Howwood, K.C., deputy attorney-general argued for the crown while Chalmers and Ross were represented by P. G. Thompson, K.C.

The five appeal court judges deliberated for more than half an hour before reaching their verdict. Chief Justice Hawker delivered the opinion.

"The composite conclusion we have come to as far as the appellant is concerned," the Chief Justice said, "is that since his criminal record began he has already committed more than 100 crimes."

crime immediately after being released from prison. We believe that the sentence should be 10 years in his case.

LET SENTENCE STAND
Regarding the younger man, although some of us might be disposed to be a little more severe we are on the whole inclined to let the sentence stand."

"You won't take the whipping off the young man?" Mr. Thompson asked.

"We came to the conclusion that the whipping may be of some benefit to the young man, but that the imprisonment," Chief Justice Hawker replied.

Mr. Justice Ewing, of the trial division, supreme court, sat on the bench in place of Mr. Justice Mitchell, who is in Calgary with the board of review for the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act.

Maritimes Branch Wants Association All Cleaned Out

Send Strong Resolution to Annual Meeting of C.A. H.A. in April

TRURO, N.S., March 18.—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at its annual meeting next month in Toronto will be presented with a resolution from the three eastern provinces, demanding a complete "housecleaning" of the association. It was decided at a meeting of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association here last night.

Fraternized by strong declarations by several delegates for a complete severance of all relations with the parent body, the annual meeting of the M.A.H.A. last night was held at the Hotel Truro and the C.A.H.A., in dropping four Halifax Wolverines players from the Canadian Olympic hockey team.

PRESENT RESUME
A complete resume of the special meeting in Halifax Jan. 18 between President Gurney and M.A.H.A. representatives was given at the meeting.

It was the original intention to draft the resolution impeaching President Gurney and his associates in the committee room, but prolonged argument resulted in the decision to have the declaration of the M.A.H.A. signed by James Halloway, K.C., of Amherst, N.S., former president of the Maritime Hockey League.

CLAIM "RAW DEAL"
Delegates at last night's session, who considered the resolution, said the session at Halifax prior to the annual meeting of the M.A.H.A. was a "raw deal" for the Maritime provinces. They said they did not know why "Daddy" Halloway, a "Chumme" League, was not permitted to compete in the M.A.H.A. and that the situation that existed in the last of the Olympic hockey championship was a "pitiful story of incompetency."

Leroy Parmelee Impressive At Card Camp

Frish Is Confident Of "Gas House" Gang

Card Boss Certain One Important Good Found

IN MOUND STAFF
PAUL McKINNON
BRADENTON, Pa., March 17.—"That gas house gang from St. Louis strengthened by a 'mound guy' from Conroy's Bluff, will be team they will have to beat for the 1936 National League pennant."

"Mound Guy" Leroy Parmelee has made such an impression in the Cardinals camp that the Cardinals manager, Branch Rickey, has stopped in the present drive.

In a very early one-inning pitching duel that was missing last year when the 21-year-old Chicago Cub beat them out in the final series of the Cardinals.

Coupled with the two Deans, who are certain to come to terms before the club starts its northward journey, Parmelee, obtained from New York Giants in the deal for Second baseman Bugles Whitford, is expected to give St. Louis all the pitching strength it needs.

Even this, however, might be a "pitiful story of incompetency" as Manager Frankie going to be the team to beat." Besides his probable "big four" Frish is counting on Bill Walker, Jess Haines, Bill McGee, Ed Heuser, Domie Rysa and Nelson Porter, a promising right hander obtained from the Cardinals at Houston.

Frish's biggest worry, however, is Mr. Frish. It's almost as if Frish had been through at top speed for an entire season at present, although he claims he's in extra good shape. But Ankenman, 32-year-old pitcher, who has been in the Cardinals camp for a while, may do it but it is doubtful if he can fill Frish's shoes.

Third base is the other big problem. Right now, Charlie Gehringer looks like his old self on that spot, but he himself doesn't think he can play more than 130 games. Rigger Collins and Lou Dierker, fill the bill, however, and stepped out of the emergency room at the end of the season.

Of Bill Delaney weakened the catching staff, but Frish isn't fretting about that department, with Vito Davis, Walker, Jess Haines, Bill McGee, Ed Heuser, Domie Rysa and Nelson Porter, a promising right hander obtained from the Cardinals at Houston.
